Combat Summer Heat

This summer has been especially hot in Europe and the forecast indicates it may remain that way for some time. The Centers for Disease Control advises the best defense in beating the heat is prevention.

Drink more fluids regardless of your level of activity. Don't wait until you are thirsty to drink. If your doctor limits the amount of fluid you drink or has prescribed water pills, seek medical advice on how much you should drink while the weather is hot.

Don't drink liquids containing caffeine, alcohol or large amounts of sugar, these cause loss of more body fluid. Avoid very cold drinks because they can cause stomach cramps.

Stay indoors or in a shady area and, if possible, stay in an air-conditioned area. If your home does not have air-conditioning, take a trip to an air-conditioned facility. A few hours spent in air-conditioning can help people stay cooler when they go back into the heat.

Electric fans help but when the temperatures get into the high 90s, fans will not prevent heat-related illnesses. Taking a cool shower, bath, or moving into an air-conditioned area is best.

For more info call the 6th Area Support Group Safety Office at DSN 421-2752/civ. 0711-729-2752.
